THE FRANCHISE DISCUSSED IN PARLIAMENT

Consideration of the Bill Clause by Claude Takes Time.

'SOME TROUBLE'

Objection to Farmers Collecting Campaign Funds From Door to Door.

OWAS, April 5.—Slow progress was made in passing the new Franchise Act through the committee of the whole in the Commons to-night, by agreement only non-contentious clauses were considered, but, notwithstanding the tardiness of the proceedings, some clauses for future consideration, only a few sections of the bill were approved. Many clauses discussed at length, but none were altered or amended. The same measure will be brought on for second reading on Monday.

AMONG SOLICITING FUNDS.

There were two spirited clashes during tonight's debate, which put life into the otherwise dull proceedings of a busy day. J. A. Seasmith, M.P., who is a member of the Commons, and who is the third party by character, was "disgraced" during the course of the debate by the fact that he was found to be soliciting campaign funds from door to door in the Commons. He was rebuked by the Speaker, who said that he was not a member of the Commons, and that he was not entitled to be there. He was then ordered to leave the Commons.

CHAIRMAN HAS TROUBLE.

The second clash involved the Chairman of the Committee of the Whole, Deputy Speaker Bolvin. Two angry attacks were made upon him by the Opposition, and he was rebuked by the Speaker. He was then ordered to leave the Commons.

not get a "voter," but to vote. "We did not go down door to door because we did not want to be called 'voter' (North Ontario), a former President of the Farmers' Union."

TWO HOURS TO VOTE.

Before passing the clause making it an offence for a person during an election to go down door to door to solicit the return of any candidate, to make or publish any false statement of fact in relation to a person's character or conduct of such candidate, the committee struck out the sub-section abolishing a person of ill-repute if he proves that he had reasonable grounds for believing the statement to be correct.

The bill provides that employers must give two hours, instead of one hour as at present, to employees to cast their votes. Mr. J. A. Currie, North Simcoe, was opposed to the bill, as it was proposed to give the Clerk of the Crown in Charge of the Elections and Returns the power to issue orders to employers to give two hours to employees to cast their votes.

APPEALING FROM RULING.

"I appeal from the Chair's ruling," said the Hon. Mr. F. G. McLeod, M.P., when he was asked to give evidence in support of the bill. He said that he was not a member of the Commons, and that he was not entitled to be there. He was then ordered to leave the Commons.

FRANCE ACTED WITHOUT SUPPORT OF HER ALIES

All of Them Opposed Her Plan of Occupying Cities in the Ruhr District

Official Statement Issued by Britain Declares Stand of Entente

Berlin, April 8.—The Berliner Tageblatt says it is informed that the German Government negotiating with the Entente for a prolongation to October 15th of the agreement of August, 1919, for the maintenance of troops in the neutral zone, planning that a strong police force is required to maintain order in that area.

London, April 8.—After a long conference, which the French Ambassador, Paul Cambon, had with Premier Lloyd George to-day, and a full discussion of the Franco-German incident by the Cabinet Council, at which the French view was fully explained to the British Ministers, an authoritative statement was issued by the Foreign Office to-day, stating that the French action has caused a serious situation.

The matter is under discussion of the British and French Governments, and the hope is expressed that the situation may be eased. The statement repeats various expressions of regret for dealing with the Ruhr situation, among others, the sending of Allied officers with the German troops to supervise the armistice. Another alternative was that the decision should be made with the German Government, with the stipulation that, unless the status quo is maintained, the Allies themselves would occupy German territory to enforce their demands. The statement proceeds: "The German Government appears to have accepted the proposal that France, to have responded by adopting such a plan which was only in accordance with the armistice, and the even then to have been the affair of the Allies, and not of any one of them singly."

FOCH DOES NOT FEAR HUNS NOW

Paris, April 8.—The papers quote Marshal Foch as making the following statement: "It is impossible for Germany to start a new war. Though we cannot, of course, force her any thing will end. I believe that present events are the prelude to a real danger. The unity of the Allies is perfect. All nations understand that France is not turning an imperialistic policy, but only intends to force Germany to fulfill her treaty. Personally, I am an optimist."

"So this is Your Birthday, Grandmother"

"YES, dearie, I am seventy-five years old today. It doesn't seem possible, for I don't feel old."

"And you certainly do not look old."

"Well, you're young, dearie, and I'm old."

"Oh, yes, indeed, there was a time in my life when I never expected to live to be fifty, say nothing about seventy-five. When your mother and my other children were small I had my hands full and got run down in health. I got so nervous that I could not sleep and had frequent headaches. Every little thing bothered me. I seemed to be annoyed and worry me until, finally, I gave out entirely, and was in bed for months with nervous prostration."

"Yes, dearie, I had two or three doctors, but they only told me that it would take a long time for me to regain my health. I was so old and my grandmother came in with some of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. He said some one told him that it would cure me, and he went away to his drug store and bought half a dozen boxes."

"What did your doctor say about using it?"

"Well, what could he say? He only said that he had done all he could, and that he had run across a great many cases in which the Nerve Food had been used with excellent results. So I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and it was not long before I was on the way to health and strength."

"And did it cure you?"

"Well, the best evidence is that I am here to-day, well and happy, after all these years. And I am more than ever enthusiastic for Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. For I have used it several times during the last few years when I felt that I needed some assistance to keep up vitality. As a person gets older I think their blood gets thinner, and they seem to need something like Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to increase their strength and vitality."

"That is something worth knowing, grandmother."

"If you will take my advice, dearie, you will not forget about it. When you get tired and nervous. This has been my advice to a great many people, and I know that it has done them good."

THE LIQUOR CASES VERSE THE THE FOUND ALL OF THE ELEVEN MEN GUILTY UNDER O. T. A.

HIS REASONS Directly Opposes Magistrate On the Evidence of Spotters.

Judgment was handed down this morning by Judge Gird in the liquor appeals heard about a week ago. He found eleven of the men guilty. These names are: Alex. J. Benedetti, Percy Stride, Thomas Shea, John Owen, Barney Kelly, Edward Johnson, Patrick Murphy, Stanley Black, Thomas Ross, Joseph Zappa, and John Wauscher.

All these men were found guilty by the police magist on charges of contravention of the O. T. A. The liquor license department is appealing the case.

Judge Gird pointed out that the police magist lays down a hard and fast rule that before convicting for a breach of the O. T. A., he requires the evidence of the class of witnesses mentioned to be corroborated where their evidence is contradictory. It does not weigh the preponderance of probability, nor regard the burden of proof, but considers the manner of the witnesses.

The police magist had this put in writing "that where there is no evidence showing that the defendant had been guilty of any offence excepting that of the two men who admit to having been guilty, the evidence of their evidence is contradicted. It will have no greater weight with me than the defendant's evidence. It must be corroborated by some independent witness before I can convict."

The evidence of the Crown is that of two "whiskey detectives" in the case of the Crown. The long and exhaustive cross-examination of these witnesses in the eleven cases, make their evidence more and more reliable, but on the contrary impressed me so strongly that they could not be honestly sworn and could be relied upon.

In daily life we are quite as likely as not to be deceived by what we have seen and this fact is no excuse to us. I am sure that the long and exhaustive cross-examination of these witnesses in the eleven cases, make their evidence more and more reliable, but on the contrary impressed me so strongly that they could not be honestly sworn and could be relied upon.

The magist's decision is a very extraordinary one in that it is a development of modern life has divided our powers of observation. It is impossible to observe in a court room. Things run so smoothly, transportation facilities are so perfect and specialization is so complete, that we have no means of observing in a court room. DEEP WATERWAYS Hamilton's Course Receives Much Attention.

An evidence of the interest which the large manufacturing and exporting centres of the old country are taking in the proposed canalization of the St. Lawrence and making the ports on the Great Lakes accessible to ocean-going boats, is a long article, giving prominent place in the Nottingham Guardian, published in Nottingham, England. It reads in part: "The Harbor Board of the city of Hamilton, which city has earned for itself the title of the Birmingham of Canada, has had a complete survey made of the local harbor and the engineers have prepared a report showing how it may be improved. When this morning, at the house of Mr. St. Lawrence, a harbor second to none on the Great Lakes, will provide accommodation for ocean boats, which will take manufacturing products from the factories at Hamilton to their destination overseas."

Captain Guy, chairman of the Harbor Board, who is in receipt of this publication, has also received notice of a similarly enthusiastic nature from many other points, which will, through canalization of the St. Lawrence, become directly connected by water with the Great Lakes.

FIRE PROTECTION Agitation On Upper James Street for It.

The residents of Upper James street, Mountain Top, are greatly worried over the fact that they have poor fire protection. They are not getting any special circumstances on such evidence when uncorroborated, must be met to convince the magist. If the detectives were accomplices, I would find the defendant guilty. I came to the same conclusion after talking with the detective not as accomplice. Their evidence would not require corroboration but should be examined with extreme care and caution in order to determine what weight should be given to it. It was urged that the evidence were admitted as accomplices, and to come to the conclusion contained for by the defendant's counsel.

MOVIE AGE CASE Plaintiffs Want $3,000 for Injury to Truck.

The action of William and E. J. Taylor of Toronto, vs. Ontario Street Railway Company for $3,000 damages for injuries done to a truck owned by them, was heard this morning before Justice Macdougall. The truck was badly damaged and the front of the car was smashed.

William Scully, driver of the truck, said it was a large, heavy one, weighing about 2,500 pounds, and could not go over a 15-mile speed. On Rebeck street it was going about 15 miles, and even slower than that as it went down the street. He had the opinion that the street car was about half a block away when he first saw it, and that he had been hit.

On being cross-questioned Scully said he thought his truck had been hit on one of the rear wheels. When he saw the car, he threw his hands up in the air and made for the far side of the street.

One of the men was thrown to the ground, another to the step on the truck and Scully was thrown against the wheel.

"Did you see the motorist of the car?" asked the judge.

"Yes," replied Scully, "I saw him during the hearing of the case and he was ready to testify for something."

Mr. Lyons, one of the men on the truck, said that he had been thrown through the glass.

On being cross-questioned Lyons admitted that he did not have a chauffeur's license for the year 1919.

One of the jurors was taken sick during the hearing of the case and was allowed to withdraw.

The verdict was still in progress at press time.

THE REASON WHY

HOW DO BIRDS FIND THEIR WAY?

The most interesting phase of the movement of animals from place to place is found in the flight of birds during the spring and fall. In the spring the birds come south and in the fall they go north. This is called "migration" and the reason given for this is that the birds are seeking a better place to live in. But is this the only reason? No, it is not. There are many other reasons why birds migrate. For example, they may be seeking a better place to raise their young, or they may be seeking a better place to find food. In fact, there are many reasons why birds migrate, and it is not always as simple as it seems.

WHY DO BIRDS COME BACK IN SPRING?

The birds, however, have no charts or compasses to guide them. They do not know as yet absolutely what it is that enables the bird to find its way back to the same spot every year after year. As nearly as we have been able to ascertain, the birds are guided by their first flight, developing a habit that carries them back to the place which is the same as the place in which they were born. This is the "home" instinct, and it is the most powerful of all. It is the reason why birds come back to the same place every year, and it is the reason why they are so successful in finding their way back to their homes.

WHY DO BIRDS GO SOUTH IN WINTER?

We know why birds go south in the winter. The necessity of finding food to live upon has everything to do with it. As food grows scarce in the north, the birds are forced to go south to find it. This is the "food" instinct, and it is the second most powerful of all. It is the reason why birds go south in the winter, and it is the reason why they are so successful in finding their way back to their homes.

there and brought up a new family. A bird family will average four young birds, and it is the same in the south. The bird population would quickly multiply itself by three and there would be the same old necessity of traveling away to look for food. To avoid this the birds begin to accustom to their old homes before the breeding season begins.

HOW DO THEY FIND THE OLD HOME?

The return of birds to their old homes and how they find their way back to the same spot every year to do which they must sometimes travel thousands of miles, is one of the most marvelous things in nature and has not as yet been satisfactorily determined. The nearest approach we have to a satisfactory answer to this is that birds do have a memory, that they can do and recognize familiar objects, and that their love for the old home causes them to fly to the north until they recognize the landmarks of their former habitation. In this it is said that the older birds—those who have gone that way before—lead the flock, and show the way.

There is no doubt that birds have a more perfect instinct of direction than man. They can follow a straight line of longitude almost perfectly, by which they can pick out the shorter route by which they come to the familiar place they call home, and then they stop and build their nests. This is not merely a matter of instinct, but it is a matter of habit. The birds are shown by the fact that some birds when migrating fly all the way to the north, only to find that they have no light by which to recognize familiar objects.

WHY DO BIRDS SING?

The song of the birds is a part of the love-making. The male bird sings to the female bird, and it is the way in which they tell each other that they are in love. This is the "love" instinct, and it is the third most powerful of all. It is the reason why birds sing, and it is the reason why they are so successful in finding their way back to their homes.

the birth of the little birds of the nest. The male bird is the one who builds the nest, and he is the one who sings to the female bird. The female bird is the one who sits on the nest, and she is the one who feeds the young birds. The male bird is the one who protects the nest, and he is the one who drives away any other birds who might try to take over the nest. This is the "territory" instinct, and it is the fourth most powerful of all. It is the reason why birds sing, and it is the reason why they are so successful in finding their way back to their homes.

Transportation of the Future.

Transportation is the fundamental progress in civilization. All things must be transported through the use of a bottle. If we can transport things through the use of a bottle, it is just as much gain. This is the "transportation" instinct, and it is the fifth most powerful of all. It is the reason why birds sing, and it is the reason why they are so successful in finding their way back to their homes.

Board Not Brought Into the Litigation.

A communication was read from Kerr, Thomson, McFarlane at last night's meeting of the Board of Education, wherein the board was advised that Stuart Bros., the contractors who were in charge of the erection work of the manual training and household science school when it collapsed, were prepared to go ahead with the work and complete the building. No comment was made by the trustees, although it is taken to mean that if there is any difference of opinion between the contractor and the architect as to where the fault lies, it will be brought out by themselves, and no action of the building will be held up at all.

April 8.—A resolution on an investigation by a committee of the railroad strikes has been called in various parts of the country in defiance of the Railway Brotherhood. The resolution was introduced today by McCormick, of Illinois. The resolution was referred to the House on Contingent Expenses. McCormick declared that the situation is getting beyond the control of the officials. He said that the failure of the President to call the Wage Board, and the failure of the Railroad Act, was in large measure to blame for the trouble. He said that the men had become restive.

FROM THE COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE
REPORTER'S HEADQUARTERS
BROOKLYN

April 9th, 1920

An open letter
To the Citizens of Hamilton and Vicinity:

Our experience is that the public is not less generous in its giving, but that it is more searching in its questions as to why the request and what is the money to be used for?

For these reasons your most searching inquiries are welcomed by the Salvation Army; not only as to why, but as to what for?

The Christian and Social Service of the Salvation Army is an open book for all to read. It does not duplicate the work of any other organization.

We commend to your reading the balance set aside a portion of your charitable donations for our Jubilee Self Denial Appeal, May 15th to 22nd.

Yours in His love and service,
W. F. Richards
Commissioner.

Why?-and what for?

The Salvation Army Activities in Canada

If we are to carry on and extend our work in Canada we must have funds for the maintenance of the following institutions:

- Maternity Home for poor mothers and their babies.
- Children's Homes, not "orphansages" or "institutions," but small homes where parental care can be most closely approximated.
- Rescue Homes for wayward girls and unmarried mothers and their babies.
- Women's Shelters for temporary care of dependent cases.
- Police Court Work where men and women, not habitual criminals, are taken in hand, induced to go straight and followed up.
- Prison, Jail and Penitentiary Work, visiting prisoners and their families.
- Working Men's Homes and Shelters where men may have clean beds and decent surroundings at nominal charge, or, if they have not the price, free.
- Free Labor Bureau.
- General Hospitals.
- Home Mission Department.
- Hospital Visiting Bands.
- Industrial Workshops where derelict men support themselves and work out their own Salvation.
- Lost and Missing Friends world-wide enquiry.
- Training College for Candidates for Officership.
- Visiting and Supplies to Poor People in Their Homes.
- Young People's Work.

These institutions are manned by officers whom gold cannot buy. They would not consider their services to be a joy unless it involved day-to-day, life-long, personal sacrifice for God and their fellow-men.

The Salvation Army Activities Abroad

From a personal point of view; from a business point of view; from any point of view; THINK WHAT IT MEANS to operate in sixty-six different countries, and in forty-two different languages.

It is a work that you should have a part in. You may not be in the mission field, but you should be behind this great, unselfish force of men and women who are on the ground doing the actual work. Work which obviously cannot be fully self-sustaining is carried on by us among:

Argentinians	Lapps
Basutos	Malays
Belgians	Marathis
Bengalis	Mashanaves
Bhils	Mashonans

CITY OPPOSED TO JURIES IN ROAD CASES

Will Fight Change Proposed by Hon. F. C. Biggs in Act.

PARK IMPROVEMENTS

Board Advised to Get the Fields Ready for Ball Teams.

City Solicitor Waddell, at yesterday afternoon's session of the Board of Control, strongly recommended combating the proposal of the Hon. F. C. Biggs to eliminate a clause from the Statutes, whereby juries are not permissible in actions for damages against corporations by reason of the alleged neglect of corporations to keep in repair public highways. Hon. Mr. Biggs evidently favors juries in such actions. A deputation composed of the City Solicitor, City Clerk, and Controller Aitchison was appointed to go to Toronto to lay before the department their objections.

The letter from the Secretary of the Board of Police Commissioners urging the necessary appropriation of $14,500 for police protection in the park, was deferred until next week. In the meantime a survey will be made of the available lands from Homeside this year, which are expected to reach at least $25,000, and make comparisons of receipts and proposed expenditures.

"I think the chief is planning a too elaborate patrol of that district," stated Controller Davis. "I do not see the necessity of appointing the extra men and too motorcycles in that district. The proposition is a water, rather than the crowded city districts require."

The assessors are now working in Homeside for the city.

A delegation representing the Aged Women's Home, asked for an increase in the grant allotted them from the city, which was recommended by the Board. The Aged Women's Home will get 50 cent. per diem per capita, the W.C.T.U. 5 cents and the St. Peter's Infirmary, 5 cents.

A representative from Ringling Bros. show requesting the use of Gage Park for show purposes on July 21st. The south end of the park is requested. Permission was granted at a rental of $150, the company, in addition, to pay the usual license fee and water rates.

Chairman A. H. Wright asked for a showdown from the controllers re the custody and expenditure of the money voted for park improvements. Mr. Wright pointed out the great handicap the Parks Board labors under when they do not know how much of the $50,000 voted for parks improvements will be allowed to be spent. The holding back of operations on baseball diamonds threatens to put a kink in the baseball season. That auspicious opening is scheduled for May 1st. It was finally arranged between the Sporting Committee, and the Parks Board to have the city engineer draw up plans for ancient improvements. Just where the hitch has been was hard to locate, but things will move from now on, as the Board of Control agreed that the Parks Board should get the playing fields ready as soon as possible and the other improvements will be considered later. Mr. Hugh Hayes accompanied Mr. Wright.

"There will be no spraying of trees this year." The application of the Parks Board for funds to go on with was met by Controller Jutten that the "N. S. P." sign is hung out.

Building Inspector Whitehead presented for the appointment of an assistant inspector, and recommended the appointment of ex-AM. Glasgow, which was agreed to by the Board, for six months, at $12 a month.

Attorney G. K. Thomson championed the application of Lee Clancy for permission to establish his shirt-making parlors at 12 Walnut street south. A big hitch is being put up against the change of Mr. Clancy's address. The residents in the neighborhood claim it will depreciate the value of their property, as well as being an unsightly nuisance. Consideration was promised by the Board. Later, a recommendation was passed refusing the license.

The recommendation of the Board of Health to establish a venereal disease clinic, to be located at the City Hospital, was brought by the appealing number who seek divorce by the Parliamentary method. There are 128 applicants this session. Of the number 75 are from Toronto alone. The Senate is not diverting itself of the right to pass laws, but when the enactment becomes law its divorce activities will be very much reduced. As the main opposition to the reform has come from Quebec, and as that province is not alone, the presumption is that the measure will pass with little difficulty.

DIVORCE COURT FOR ONTARIO

Ottawa, April 8.—The bill introduced to-day in the Senate by Senator Ross, and given the blessing of the government, confers on the Supreme Court of Ontario jurisdiction in regard to divorce. There is a similar bill in relation to Prince Edward Island. In consequence, every province but Quebec will now have Divorce Courts.

The reform has been long talked of, and is brought about by the appalling number who seek divorce by the Parliamentary method. There are 128 applicants this session. Of the number 75 are from Toronto alone. The Senate is not diverting itself of the right to pass laws, but when the enactment becomes law its divorce activities will be very much reduced. As the main opposition to the reform has come from Quebec, and as that province is not alone, the presumption is that the measure will pass with little difficulty.

NO OPPONENT TO GREENWOOD.
(A. P. Special Cable)

London, April 8.—(Canadian Associated Press)—No opponent to Sir Hamar Greenwood, the new Irish Secretary, was yet appeared. The Liberal Association's chairman says last night Sir Hamar was willing to risk being shot in Ireland, as he would not run the risk of being politically killed in England.
